

answering the call

The annual University of Maryland R Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center Gala celebrates the unique, nimble network of individuals who make up Maryland's model Emergency Medical Services system—first responders, police, firefighters, medical and Shock Trauma personnel—who support our community and serve others despite great personal risk. While we did not gather on April 25, 2015, their heroism deserves our continued gratitude and recognition. We salute our 2015 Shock Trauma Heroes for answering the call, now and always.

This year, more than ever, we extend our deepest thanks to our dedicated supporters for standing with us. Together, we will answer the call to build a stronger future for our community.
